ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

EDWARD LENFESTY SHOOTS HIMSELF IN MUNCIE, IND.

Eyesight Probably Lost—Intoxication the Cause of the Attempt to End His Life—Will be Taken to Ft. Wayne.

After writing three letters—one to his brother Solon, of Ft. Wayne; one to his mother, Mrs. Henry Lenfesty, of this city, and one to his wife in South Bend—Edward Lenfesty put the muzzle of a revolver to his head and blew his eyes out in his boarding house in Muncie Saturday night.

He went from here to Muncie last August, where he has since been breaking on the Lake Erie & Western railroad. Last week through some trouble he was discharged and it is supposed he was temporarily insane at the time he committed the rash act, as he had appeared to be in very poor spirits for several days.

He went to his room about 11 o'clock Saturday evening and it is supposed he shot himself immediately after writing the three letters. He also left a dollar with a notice to the police to notify his relatives by telegram.

Edward was a member of Company M of the 15th Reg. of Vol. and occupied the office of orderly sergeant, being one of the best officers of the regiment. He has many friends in this city who were shocked to hear of his rash act.

May Recover.

Muncie, Ind., July 9.—Edward Lenfesty, who attempted suicide here Saturday night in a south side rooming house, is still alive, and it is thought by his physicians that he may recover, but his eyesight is partially, if not fully, lost.

He states that he was under the influence of liquor when he committed the rash act and that he would not have attempted suicide had he been sober, although he is very badly discouraged.

His mother, Mrs. Henry Lenfesty, and son, Solon, of Ft. Wayne, are at his bedside and expect to remove him to Fort Wayne as soon as he can endure the trip.

STILL ALIVE.

Edward Lenfesty Not Expected to Live Many Hours.

Muncie, Ind., July 10.—3:30 P. M.—"Edward Lenfesty, who attempted suicide here Saturday night, is still alive, but it is thought he cannot live many hours. Eyesight is completely gone."

The above was received by the Independent direct from the hospital where Mr. Lenfesty is being cared for.

Lenfesty Still Alive.

The last report from Muncie today stated that Mr. Lenfesty was still alive, and that there was a strong outlook for his recovery.

The New Law of Wages for Teachers.

The legislature of Indiana has made some serious blunders in its proceedings of the past winter. In attempting to amend the law governing teachers' wages it has made a mess of it. The law provides:

That the daily wages of teachers for teaching in the public schools and attending township institutes shall not be less than any amount determined by the multiplying two and one half cents by the general average of scholarship and success given the teacher on the highest grade of license at the time of contracting; provided that only the general average of scholarship shall be used in determining the wages of beginning teachers.

On the face of it, this law looks as if it might be beneficial to the school interests. But here is how it works:

Five teachers in the public schools of this city, young and largely inexperienced, earned last year $32 per month. Three of them would have been glad to have returned at a slight advance, and, taking age and experience into view, were getting good wages. The highest percentage on examination was 98.5-10; this multiplied by 2½ cents for each percent raised their wages to $49.25, $1.25 more than several teachers who had been in the employ of the schools for years, and whose experience is worth ten times that of a younger teacher. The injustice of such a law makes itself manifest by such illustrations. The law makes it a penal offense to give these teachers less than $49.25 per month. Other teachers, whose experience and teaching qualities have proved themselves by years of watchfulness, command much less salary, and if the two were placed side by side as to their merits would receive higher wages than the first.

Another mistake of the law is that it will compel school authorities to refuse employment to inexperienced teachers, from the very fact that a girl or boy just out of school can pass a much better examination on technical studies than can a teacher who has been employed on special branches to the neglect of other branches, but whose experience has made their services valuable.

Another suggestion connected with this statement of fact and illustration of inequality lies in the fact that the state superintendent has decided that those holding state licenses are freed from the operations of this law. What ground he has for his decision is beyond the average man's ability to see. There is not a sentence or a word in the whole law which makes any suggestion for such provision, but the law declares that the pay shall be based upon the "highest grade of license at the time of contracting." If a teacher holds a state or exemption license we see no reason why the school authorities should not base the teacher's pay upon the average attained in securing that license. As said before, nearly $3,000 is added to the expense of city teachers by the operation of this law, and its operation is in favor of those without experience and without teaching ability and against those who have earned advancement by years of labor, but who are necessarily cut off from increased pay because of the increased expense resulting from this law.

Again, it is in the minds of a great many people very questionable whether this law and the one fixing the rate of wages for common laborers on public works at $2 per day could be constitutional, because it interferes with the right of contract. Some wealthy corporation or city ought to make a test of this law.—Elkhart Review.

BOYS' WONDERFUL NERVE.

Crawled Several Hundred Feet After Losing a Leg.

Warsaw, Ind., July 9.—Ernest P. Brady, the twelve-year-old son of Mrs. Robert Brady, grand child of records of the Degree of Pocahontas, lost a leg in a peculiar manner Sunday. Brady was employed by the Pennsylvania company as lamp man, and was walking along the track when a broken door on an eastbound freight struck him, throwing him under the wheels. After the accident he crawled several hundred feet toward home, and even climbed a fence. He was found an hour afterward in an unconscious state.

As to Vaccination.

The state board of health will meet today to formulate a proposition to Governor Durbin with reference to general vaccination in the state. The board believes the state should take steps at once toward general vaccination, if smallpox is to be checked. Reports of the disease continue to come in from various parts of the state, indicating a general spread of smallpox. Governor Durbin has been apprised of the desires of the board, but was unwilling to take up the matter until the board presented to him just what it thought was needful. It has been proposed to draw on the state epidemic fund for money with which to carry out the general vaccination scheme.

Crumpacker Mentioned for Judge.

An Indianapolis correspondent in discussing a successor to the late Judge William A. Woods of the U. S. court of appeals, says that the name of Hon. E. D. Crumpacker, of Valparaiso, and Judge John H. Gillett, of Hammond, are being prominently mentioned. About a dozen other distinguished lawyers of the state are also mentioned for the place.

Doesn't Cost Much to Try.

An exchange says if farmers would follow these instructions they need never go to any expense of dehorning their cattle. Buy a 5-cent stick of pot ash and when the little horns make signs of starting on the calf, rub with this caustic stick and that calf will never know that nature intended that it should have horns.

Chicago Capitalists Buy Land.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—A syndicate composed of Chicago capitalists has bought over 10,000 acres of land bordering on the Kankakee marsh in Pleasant township, this county, and will drill wells in hopes of getting oil. Land that was considered worthless is bringing $50 to $100 per acre.

A Hoosier Climbs Upward.

John S. Johnson, formerly a lieutenant of Company F, third regiment, I. N. G., and now first lieutenant in the Forty-first United States volunteers, on duty at Manila, has been notified that he will be assigned to the artillery. He is married. His wife and child reside in South Bend.

Proceeding Rapidly.

The city force of laborers under the direction of street commissioner, Geo. Null, has gotten down to the state bank corner. The work is progressing rapidly. It is the intention to have it completed this week so as to commence grading for pavement the first of next week.

Marries a South Bend Man.

Jessie Hatchings, of this city, and Joe Neddo, of South Bend, were married Friday July 5, in Niles, Mich. Mrs. Neddo returned to her position here to remain for a few weeks when they will go to housekeeping in South Bend.

Twins Are Born.

Twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, residing northeast of Plymouth, Tuesday, July 9, 1901. Babies, mother and father all doing well.

CITY FATHERS MEET.

Regular Business Is Transacted Monday Evening.

Council met in regular session Monday night with all members present. The petition of W. B. Hess and others, and Charles Kellison and others relative to the fixing of the width of the West Laporte street pavement was deferred until next Monday night.

The roadway boxes purchased of William Everly were ordered returned and exchanged for the kind ordered.

The finance committee presented the following report: Amount on hand, $5,704.11; amount of bills allowed, $1,175.52; balance on hand, $4,528.59.

The city civil engineer was instructed to order sewer pipe and brick necessary to construct the catch basins on North Michigan street.

The city attorney reported that he had in progress a contract with the Lake Erie & Western railroad for supplying water.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company promised to take and consider the opening of Third street across or under their railway.

A resolution was adopted ordering the construction of a sidewalk along the property of Samuel McKelvy, on East Laporte street.

A. F. Bowers presented a proposition to the council to construct a concrete sidewalk and entrance in front of the city hall and allow the council one year to test the same and if not satisfactory they need not pay for same. The proposition will probably be accepted next Monday night.

The council then took a recess until next Monday night.

PRIESTS' POSTS CHANGED.

Bishop Alender Makes Announcement of Diocesan Appointments.

Bishop Alender has made the following diocesan appointments: The Rev. M. Lomen, to St. Vincent's, Allen county; the Rev. Julius Zimetzwast, at Peru; James Fitzpatrick, assistant at Fort Wayne cathedral; the Rev. Joseph Abel, St. Joseph's, Hammond; John Wakefer, assistant at St. Mary's, Lafayette; the Rev. Peter Budnik, to Walkerton, Bremen, Hamlet and Knox; the Rev. Thomas Conroy, to Portland, Geneva and Winchester. All these are newly ordained priests.

Changes were as follows: The Rev. E. Baccard, Monroeville to Delphi; John C. Keller, from Peru to Mishawaka, as assistant, H. C. Kappel, Earl Bark to Fairmount; the Rev. C. E. McCabe, from Lafayette to St. Bridget's, Otterbein; A. E. Lafontaine, from St. Vincent's to post of diocesan scroll examiner.

MRS. W. S. TAYLOR DEAD.

Wife of Kentucky's Ex-Governor Passed Away.

Mrs. Sarah Bell Tanner Taylor, wife of William S. Taylor, ex-Governor of Kentucky, but for more than a year a resident of Indianapolis, died Tuesday morning of hemorrhage resulting from heart disease. She had been ill but her death was unexpected.

No Side Lines Go.

The postmaster general will issue an order in a few days which will prohibit rural free delivery carriers from engaging in any business outside their official duties except soliciting subscriptions for newspapers. This will stop their present practice of acting as agents for express companies, book publishers, wholesale houses and liquor dealers, to the detriment of small merchants in their territory and also harmful to department work.

Michigan Peach Crop.

The Michigan peach season is less than three weeks away. The general indications are that there will be about 70 per cent of a crop all over the country. The weather has not been at all favorable for early ripening, and on this account the annual rush may be delayed several days beyond the regular time of its coming. The Michigan crop is said to be healthy and is maturing rapidly under the influence of good weather.

Declared Insane.

Paul Augustus Schultz, of Gorman township, aged 28 years, was declared insane Tuesday evening. He has been an epileptic since 9 years of age. Recently he threatened to kill several members of the family and to burn down the barn. Application has been made for his entrance into Longfellow asylum, at Logansport. He will be retained in Plymouth until arrangements can be made.

Death of Frankfort Newspaper Man.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock occurred the death of Bernhart Herman Dorner, of the Frankfort Crescent. Mr. Dorner was aged 35 years and one of the well-known Indiana newspaper men. He was a graduate of Purdue university class of '89. He had been confined to his bed for the past three months, a sufferer from Bright's disease.

The State Tax Board.

Monday the state board of tax commissioners began its forty-five days' session, at which assessments on various kinds of property in Indiana will be considered. The sessions of the board this year are regarded as important ones, owing to the fact that the new law give the board original jurisdiction in the assessments of pipe lines, electric railway lines and the cars of transportation companies used on railway lines in the state. The first session of the board will be devoted to the assessment of corporate property exclusively. It is expected that this session will be one of the busiest the board has had for years.

WILL BE PAVED.

South Michigan Street Contract to Be Let Next Monday Night.

The contract for the paving of South Michigan street, from the river bridge to the south corporation line, will be let next Monday night, as the remonstrance has only a few signers and those circulating the same have almost given up in disgust.

The police estate vote will control the paving on the south side and the heirs seem to be greatly in favor of the improvement.

The remonstrance now contains the following names: Mrs. H. Pershing, John Staley, Mrs. Richey, John Blain, J. A. Gilmore, sr., H. G. Thayer, A. M. Reeves, L. M. Lauer and T. O. Taber.

BRILL CASE FLATTENS OUT.

Gets Off With a $500 Fine—An Easy Let-out.

Laporte, Ind., July 11.—The state withdrew the affidavit and information charging J. W. Brill, of Cleveland, with assault, with intent to kill Ellsworth E. Weir, and filed instead an affidavit and information charging simple assault. Brill pleaded guilty and the court fined him $500.

Death of Mrs. John Spittler.

Mrs. John Spittler died at the home of her parents in Walnut, July 4, 1901, aged 21 years, 4 months and 18 days. She leaves a devoted husband, one son and one daughter to mourn her death.

The funeral was held in Walnut Saturday, July 6, conducted by Rev. Whitaker, of the Makinuckee M. E. church, and the remains were laid to rest in the Richland cemetery at Richland Center.

Minimum Wage Law Test.

Richmond, Ind., July 11.—The city council last night decided to appeal to the circuit court one of the suits brought by laborers to recover back pay under the new law providing 20 cents an hour must be paid for public work. There are many cases in prospect, and it is felt a ruling on the law's constitutionality should be secured. City Attorney Jessup declares it is clearly unconstitutional.

At the Point of Death.

Robert McCance, an old and respected resident of this city, is lying at the point of death at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Deloney, on South Walnut street. Mr. McCance has been in failing health for the last three years and, being aged, it is impossible for him to recover and his death is expected at any minute.

Epworth League Trains.

Indiana will be represented at the international convention of the Epworth league at San Francisco, July 17 and 21, by about 500 delegates. This, it is thought, will be more than from any other state east of the Rocky mountains. The official Indiana train will be over the Chicago & Alton railway.

Man Dupes New Carlisle.

C. L. Smith, who has been a resident of New Carlisle for about one year, succeeded in duping the citizens in the three days' carnival. Smith collected about $100 from the merchants sold numerous fakira privileges, worked everybody in general and then left town.

Given Veterinary License.

Henry Graham, of Tippecanoe, was granted a veterinary license Wednesday. This is the second license issued since the passage of the new law. Dr. Myers, of Plymouth was the first to take out a license.

After Federal Judgment.

The candidacy of Enoch G. Hogate, of Danville, for the office of the United States district judge has been announced.

Wedding Announcement.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of George Inghy to Miss Bessie Carter on July 30, 1901. Both young people are well known in this county.

Lapaz Items.

Bowie Marguerite, daughter of Henry Shirk and wife Nellie, nee Broadhurst, was born Easter Sunday, 1901. Early Saturday morning the little one died, after nearly a week's illness, of cholera infantum. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the house and the mortal remains were laid away in the Fair cemetery, Rev. M. L. Peter officiating. South Bend, Walkerton and Tyner relatives attended the funeral.

A little child of Delbert Joslin is dangerously ill with scarlet fever. H. Y. Shirk and wife attended a funeral of a relative in Bourbon this week.

PERSONAL EFFECTS GONE.

Queer Details of an Indian's Death in Chicago.

The death of William Keiger, of North Judson, formerly cashier of the bank of Winamac, in the Cook county hospital at Chicago on June 28, has excited more than the usual interest at Mr. Keiger's former home, at his home in North Judson and at Valparaiso, where he held his Knight Templar membership, owing to the fact that several hundred dollars' worth of personal property which Mr. Keiger is known to have had in his possession when he went to Chicago has disappeared, and no one has been able to secure any trace of it. The property consisted of more than $200 in money, his bank book on the bank of Winamac, several promissory notes and other negotiable paper, gold watch and chain, diamond pin and ring, and a number of other articles of minor importance.

Mr. Keiger had bought his ticket home and checked his baggage on the 20th, and the baggage came through all right. While on his way to the depot, he fell unconscious on the street and was taken to the Cook county hospital where he lingered, without regaining consciousness, until the 28th, when he died. No word was sent to his friends till after his death. When his friends went after the body they were given his Knight Templar badge and the keystone of the Royal Arch chapter, on both of which his name was inscribed. None of his other property was turned over, and no trace of it could be secured as to whether he had any other property on his person when taken to the hospital, or why his friends had not been notified of his condition before his death.

HOME FROM PHILIPPINES.

Capt. Allen Is Honored Today by His Neighbors at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ind., July 11, 1901.—The city of Frankfort and the county of Clinton have only been awaiting the return of Captain Allen to carry out plans for the greatest welcome returning soldiers ever had there. Captain Allen was delayed at San Francisco by official duties, and his command came home without him, but he arrived home yesterday and today is the time appointed. The city of Frankfort and the county of Clinton have reason to celebrate. Nearly one hundred of its most promising young men, commanded by Captain Allen, who was a civil war veteran, after doing duty in the Spanish-American war, re-enlisted for the Philippines, and while abroad they saw much active service. That so many returned unharmed was largely due to the vigilance and efficiency of their commanding officers. The city of Frankfort and the county of Clinton will do itself proud. There was a dinner, for which the good housewives of that part of the state are famous, and then came speeches from Landis and other orators. On occasions like this the eagle has a right to scream.

BURIED TREASURE UNCOVERED.

Street Laborer Digs Up a Can Filled with Silver.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—While William Allen, employed in the construction of the new sewer system, was digging some three feet below the surface, he uncovered an old tin can, containing $100 in silver. The coins bear date ranging from 1870 to 1876, and are supposed to have been dumped into the street with other trash years ago. The find was directly opposite the court house.

Bitten by Rattlesnake.

While returning from a neighbor's house Wednesday Charles McCrory was bitten twice by a rattlesnake and it would no doubt have proven fatal had it not been for the prompt assistance of Dr. E. W. Viets, who cauterized and dressed the wounds. Mr. McCrory states that his feet pained him so much that he had to remove his shoes and he had not gone far when the snake attacked him.

Dr. Viets states that he is much better today and thinks it will not cause much trouble. The ankle is swollen to twice its natural size.

Celebrates 24th Anniversary.

Thomas Cole, who has been a resident of this city for many years, celebrated his seventy-fourth anniversary yesterday. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, July 11, 1827, and came to this city in 1858, having lived here nearly forty three years. He served as a soldier in the civil war in the Fifth Indiana battery under Capt. Simonson.

Mr. Cole has a host of friends in this city who will join with us in wishing him many more happy anniversaries.

Opposed to Marrying.

A Ft. Wayne husband admonishes his brethren not to marry, in a letter to the Journal-Gazette, in which he says:

"Take care and don't heed the warning to get married, as a marriage is in the year 1901, a sure failure. Because this century lacks good mothers so wherefore are we to get good girls to marry? Surely, not from a mother that leaves everything to Bridget while she goes to Aurora's all day to drink ice cream soda and eat candy. I married a daughter of such a mother and you may judge from the sock I enclose what a wife that mother gave me. I am afraid there will soon be a divorce case for the courts for when I have to hunt two hours every morning for a towel to dry myself on and then have to take a rag and go breakfastless to work because my wife's mother never taught her how to take care of a husband, so I would advise all bachelors to stay single and wear holes in their socks, instead of going solesless as I have to. Don't believe the girls' promises nowadays. They promise to do everything before marriage. They fish with a net and when they get you they don't know how to keep you. Boys, don't get duped as I was. Leave the marriageable girls of 1901 become spinsters. Don't give them a chance to make you feel miserable. Enjoy life while you can. Good wives are scarce.

Tippecanoe Items.

Tippecanoe was well represented at Argos Thursday.

Uncle Robert Martin and the family of O. M. Martin visited at Lapaz last week.

C. A. Morical's harness shop is about completed. The workmen are giving it a coat of paint.

Edward Swoveland, who has been visiting his parents and brothers for the past few days, returned to Illinois Monday.

Frank Morris, who has been an invalid with rheumatism since last October, was on our streets the other day, much to the surprise of his friends.

M. E. Trump is building a bake oven with a capacity of 100 loaves. D. W. Ritter did the stone work and Frank Bristol, of Bourbon, will build the oven proper.

Wm. Crane is making some nice improvements on his house that he recently bought, consisting of a 16x24 foot addition. When he gets it painted it will make a cozy dwelling.

James Poulson and family visited the past week with relatives at South Bend. James is prospecting, but is as yet undecided what he will do in the future. We hope he will decide to stay with us.

Mrs. James Worsham received a message from Mentone Monday morning stating that her mother, Mrs. David Hubler, was very sick. He went to Mentone at once and found her mother in an unconscious condition with little hope of recovery.

Wm. C. Elliott, our genial station agent who has been steady at his post since the building of the Nickel Plate railroad, was granted a thirty days' furlough July 1. He contemplates visiting his relatives in Kentucky and to take in the Pan American exposition.

Hon. A. L. Brick has recommended John Noland for postmaster at this place, much to the surprise of Mr. Hardesty, as the postoffice department had sent Mr. Hardesty his new bond and the same had been duly signed for a continuance of four years. Mr. Hardesty has made a good postmaster.

The Eley saw mill at Talmis, known as the old water mill, was burned Sunday morning about 8 o'clock. It was built in 1864. A house near the mill was also burned.

Argos items.

Mrs. John Smith, of Plymouth, visited in Argos last Monday.

Miss Carrie Ross, of Plymouth, visited Miss Verne Voreis the first of the week.

The Ancient Order of Gleensers, of Walnut, will have an ice cream social at that place Saturday evening, July 13. Everybody is invited.

The many friends of Andrew Metheny will be disappointed to learn that he is confined to his bed again.

Frank Wickizer, who has been in Columbus, O., for several months, returned to Argos Wednesday.

Mrs. John Weimer went to Plymouth Tuesday, where she expects to remain a few days the guest of relatives.

Mrs. S. F. Kline and Mrs. Francis Ensign, of Alliance, O., who have been visiting with F. Rosenberry, left Friday for a few days' visit with friends at Bourbon before returning home.

Minnie Hostler, of Plymouth, visited W. W. Fishburn and family Tuesday. Mrs. Bird Sarber, who has been at Cleveland for some time, is visiting Argos friends for a few days.

Mrs. Wm. Stafford and son, Claire, visited friends at Plymouth Tuesday. The Apollo Musical club will meet with Miss Eva Wickizer Monday evening, July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGriff, of Titman, Ind., spent the Fourth with their parents.

Some Marion glass blowers are taking their annual encampment at Wolf creek, in Green township.

Mrs. John Niewonger, of Warsaw, visited her relatives, Douglass Niewonger and family, a few days this week.

Robert Murphy, a regular in the U. S. army, is visiting in Argos. His company is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

The Bates house, one of the oldest and most famous hotels of Indianapolis, is being wrecked and torn down. The house has entertained more prominent men than any other hotel in the state.

USE POSTEN BRICK.

COUNCILMAN PARKER LEARNS THAT IT CAN BE GOTTEN AUGUST 1.

Will Reduce Cost of Paving North Michigan Street Nearly $800 and Give the Best Pavement—Mr. Parker Went to Crawfordsville and Got the Facts.

Councilman Parker went to Crawfordsville Tuesday to ascertain, if possible, the earliest possible date that Posten brick can be secured. While there, he saw the brick in the kiln and also saw some taken out. The finished product is in every particular equal to the sample which, under the test made by Engineer Butler, showed it to be the best sample submitted, both as to moisture and abrasion.

Mr. Parker was assured that the Posten brick could be laid down in Plymouth by August 1, 1901. As the grading cannot be completed before that date, the brick will not be needed until then and there will be no delay. The council have decided upon the Posten brick.

The same brick will be used upon Laporte street, the contract for which will be let Monday night. It seems now that an amicable arrangement will be made to the satisfaction of all parties concerned on Laporte street. There has been some difference of opinion as to the width the street should be made.

POINTERS TO INDIANA SOLDIERS.

Adjutant General Ward's Orders for the State Encampment.

Adjutant General Ward has issued a general order concerning the state national encampment July 20 to 27. The order says that each regimental headquarters will be allowed three servants, each battalion headquarters one servant. Enlisted men and officers will be paid $1 a day if they miss no regular parade drills. Seven cooks are to be allowed to each regiment.

Officers are to be allowed $16 for the use of horses furnished by themselves. The preparations indicate that the encampment is to be the grandest ever given. No soldier enlisted after May 20 will be allowed to attend except by special permission of Brigadier General McKee.

LESS NUMBER OF DEATHS.

Reports Show That June Was More Healthy Than May.

The report of the state board of health for June shows that fewer deaths occurred in Indiana in June than in May and that there was also less sickness.

The total deaths amount to 2,243, as against 2,829 in May. The death rate for June was 10.8, against 13.7 in May.

The deaths at three important ages were as follows: Infants under 1 year, 359 deaths in June, against 413 in May; children 1 to 5 years of age inclusive, June, 486, against 745 in May; adults, 65 years of age and over, June, 486, against 745 in May.

Married.

Obed H. Dipert and Miss Sarah J. Campbell were united in marriage Sunday evening at the home of Rev. G. H. Mat
